Description
The event of 'Beach Cleaning (Samudra Manthan-2.0)' was arranged by Jay Foundation. It was great to be back on the beach for this week's clean-up with a huge group of volunteers from different organizations. So many people making the effort to actively take up civic action and fight plastic pollution is exactly what we need to fight the crisis in these times. While the huge turnout boosted our spirits with much enthusiasm, what was even better was that majority of the plastic we retrieved from the beach was sent for recycling.
Conclusion
We can make amends to make a better future for others. Human health, animal health and environmental health- all three are closely linked. As long as we keep taking action, we can achieve a thriving future for all.
