Objective:

This subject aims to provide students with an understanding of the role computation can play in solving problems. The Course will be taught using C-Programming Language.

Outcome:

Learner will able to

1. Understand the basic terminology used in computer programming.
2. Write, compile and debug programs in C language.
3. Use different data types in a computer program.
4. Design programs involving decision structures, loops and functions.
5. Describe the dynamics of memory by the use of pointers.
6. Use different data structures and create/update basic data files.

Following were the points discussed on each Module and suggestions were made accordingly:

Sr No.	Module	Detailed Content	Hours	Suggestions to Teaching Faculty	Scope from Examination Question Paper Perspective
1	Introduction to Computer, Algorithm And Flowchart	1.1 Basics of Computer: Turing Model, Von Neumann Model, Basics of Positional Number System, Introduction to Operating System and component of an Operating System. 1.2 Algorithm &amp; Flowchart: Three construct of Algorithm and flowchart: Sequence, Decision (Selection) and Repetition	06	Only basic introduction of Turing Machine and Von Neumann Model needs to be covered. Number System Introduction and basic conversion of: Decimal to Binary and vice versa, Decimal to octal and vice versa, Decimal to hexadecimal and vice versa. Introduction to operating system components and its functions. Simple Algorithms and flowchart on Sequence, Decision (Selection) and Repetition can be taken.	Introduction on Turing Machine and Von Neumann model with block diagram. Simple conversion questions on Number System. Functions of Operating System. Block Diagram explaining the components of Operating System. Simple Algorithms and Flowcharts on Sequence, Selection and Repetition Constructs.
2	Fundament	2.1 Character Set,	06	Take Example of Simple C program	Questions to find output

als of C- Programmin E	Identifiers and keywords, Data types, Constants, Variables. 2.2 Operators- Arithmetic, Relational and logical, Assignment, Unary, Conditional, Bitwise, Comma, other operators. Expression, statements, Library Functions, Preprocessor.  2.3 Data Input and Output – getchar( ), putchar( ), scanf( ), printf( ), gets( ), puts( ). Structure of C program		to teach tokens like identifiers, keywords, data types, constant.  Teach operators with one example each, especially for precedence.  Emphasize on learning Library functions and their uses with example.	involving unary operators like ++ and -- can be avoided. (As it may tend to behave differently for different compilers / platforms)
3	Control Structures  3.1 Branching – If statement, If-else Statement, Multiway decision.  3.2 Looping – while , do-while, for 3.3 Nested control structure– Switch statement, Continue statement, Break statement, Goto statement.	12	Looping constructs like for, while , do while need to be explained with [syntax+flowchart+Example]  Compare while and do while loop.  Branching topics like if, if-else, Nested if-else are to be explained with [syntax+flowchart+Example].  In Syllabus the topics switch, break, continue and goto are placed under title "Nested Control Structure", but actually it need not fit in to the category.  Use of "goto" statement in a program must be discouraged.	Answer of the question on "Nested Control Structures" expects coverage of following points: Nested if, nested if ... else, nested loops
4	Functions and Parameter  4.1 Function - Introduction of Function, Function Main, Defining a Function, Accessing a Function, Function Prototype, Passing Arguments to a Function, Recursion.  4.2 Storage Classes – Auto , Extern , Static, Register	06	Following points must be covered with respect to function: Emphasis on Modularity Concept, need and benefits Syntax Prototype  Recursive function must be discussed with their need and example.  Storage classes must be discussed with their need and one example on each.	Use of function should be explicitly mentioned while framing the programming questions.
5	Arrays , String Structure and Union  5.1 Array- Concepts, Declaration, Definition, Accessing array element, One-dimensional and Multidimensional array.  5.2 String- Basic of String, Array of String , Functions in String.h	14	Need and syntax of Arrays, Structure and Union must be discussed with example.  Standard examples on 1-D and 2-D array must be taken.  Sorting of numbers program can be taken without specifying name of sorting method.

Dear students,

All those students registered for Indian Navy will be getting call letter from Indian Navy. Students are required to bring it on the day of campus placements.

It is already mentioned in the above post about the documents to bring. If some documents are with the college, at least the photocopies of those documents should be there with the students. Also, students should bring the letter from the authority saying that these documents are with the college. The original and photocopies of other documents are required at the time of interviews.

As it is a holiday 13th, cafeteria may not be working on that day. You will have to get sufficient food.

Please keep visiting V live for updates.

Job Fair 2015 – 'Times Jobs in Association with VIT'

Confucius a philosopher and teacher once said, "Choose a job you love, and you will never have to work a day in your life." In today's dynamic world all one needs is an opportunity to find a job of their competence and choice. One such opportunity was provided by Vidyalkar Institute of Technology (VIT) in association with Times Jobs Group in the form of Job Fair. It was held on 12th December 2015. It provided a platform for students and professionals to choose from the plethora of jobs offered by various organisations which participated in the Job fair. Job Fair witnessed total 43 companies and 3000 enthusiastic young minds as candidates.

VIT a pioneer in education, has taken another step ahead through this grand Job Fair. The Job Fair 2015 was inaugurated by Dr. R. L. Bhatia, a specialist in Change Management and Organisation turnaround and Tinaz Rohilla, Deputy Manager Response of The Times of India Group. The function was graced by Dr. Sanjeewani Despande, Chairperson of VDT; Dr. Ankush Sharma, COO-VIT, Ms. Jayanti Das, Marketing Manager, VDT, faculty, placement managers and candidates. Dr. R. L. Bhatia gave an inspiring speech through sharing his own story of how he became HR head from merely an office boy. He encouraged candidates to have a right attitude which HRs are looking for these days and thus started the much awaited day.

The companies were ranging from various sectors like manufacturing, aviation, consultancy, educational institutes etc. and organisations participated not only for domestic but also for international recruitment. To name a few institutes were Vadilal, Renewsys, Vidyalkar Dhyanpeet Trust, Oberoi International School, Divine HR Solutions, Geehwale, Negl, Jet Airways etc. participated in the fair. They were allotted various rooms to conduct their selection process. Further the excitement within the participating candidates was much evident from those eagerly standing in a queue at the college entrance awaiting their turn for registration. After which they were allowed to approach for applying to job posts offered by the organisations. Owing to the huge footfall of participants on the day, each of the organisation adopted different approaches to shortlist the candidates. Some took one on one detailed interviews whereas some indulged in collecting the resumes etc. after briefing the interested candidates about the company profile. The job fair concluded with the recruiter's walking in content with affluent candidates.

The job fair was made a success by the collaboration of execution strategies of Times group and VIT. The event was made flawless by volunteers from both the sides that made all the efforts to cater to the needs of the industry professionals and guiding the candidates through the event. Ms. Reshma Bhansali, placement manager of VIT MMS presented the vote of thanks for making the Job Fair 2015 accomplish what it aimed for adding another feather to VIT.
